First Classes in Religion Are Held

The new religious education classes for children in Andover grammar grades were inaugurated Tuesday. All Protestant classes are meeting at the South church, while Catholic pupils will study at St. Augustine's school. Classes are meeting once a week during the seventh period.

Instructors for the Protestant pupils are Rev. Frank E. Dunn and Rev. John S. Moses, who will teach material from the Old Testament to seventh grade pupils, and Rev. Frederick B. Noss and Rev. Elton E. Smith, who are instructors in the New Testament for eighth grade students.

The courses, as now planned, are completely Biblical in scope; the Old Testament course deals with the personalities of the pre-Christian era, while the New Testament program is centered about the life and teachings of Christ and the formation of the early church.

Both courses are designed to give the students familiarity in the use of the Bible, and class assignments are in the Scriptures them-

Exciting Battle Pictures Now at Addison Gallery

Photographs taken under fire in the Tunisian battlefield just a few months ago by Eliot Elisofon, widely-known cameraman, are being shown in a special exhibition at the Addison Gallery through September 30 under the title, "Tunisian Triumph: War Photographs by Eliot Elisofon."

Landing with our troops at Casablanca last November, Elisofon was the last war correspondent off Cape Bon in May. His photographs, released to thousands of newspapers all over the country by AP, Acme and INS, and published in Life magazine, have given millions of Americans close-up views of the fighting in North Africa. The present exhibition is culled from the hundreds of pictures he took, often at the peril of his life, for Elisofon says that he discovered, through numerous narrow escapes, that "the first duty of a photog-

Capacity Enrollment For Opening Tuesday

Abbot Academy's 115th session will begin Tuesday with the arrival of the new resident students. The school will be filled to capacity with a total enrollment of 176. All sections of the country are represented in the student body.

The following new day scholars are enrolled from Andover: Patricia Barnard, Ruth Brimer, Helen Dowd, Emily Gierasch, Margaret Kimball, Lillian Lewis, Frances Little, Shirley Sawyer and Renate Sides.

The faculty will return to the school on Saturday in time for a buffet supper at the home of the principal, Miss Marguerite Hearsey, which will be followed by the first faculty meeting of the year. Four members will not be returning. They are:

Mrs. Roberta Poland, who will have a year's leave of absence in order to be with her husband who is teaching at Deerfield academy.

Miss Lucile Tuttle, who will have a year's leave of absence and will be substituting in the English composition department at Wellesley college.

September Draft Group Leaves for Induction

The September draft group, reportedly fairly large in number, left Tuesday morning on an early train for examination at the Boston selective service headquarters, prior to induction into the armed forces.

The names of the men sent, and of those accepted from the group, are not available at this time, since the staff at the local draft board office has been engaged during the last week in a large-scale inventory for selective service headquarters.

The men inducted into the Navy and Marine corps will leave for active duty within a week, while the

Red Star Campaign

That Andover is going all out to "back the attack" is evidenced by the fact that the American Legion has given the local War Bond committee the privilege of placing beside the name of each boy and girl on the plaques in front of the town house, a red star representing a bond bought and dedicated to that person. The purpose is to show those in service that the town appreciates their efforts on the battlefield.

The Legion and Bond committee urge each Andover resident to buy a bond for his own son or daughter, or for any other individual in service that he wishes, so that eventually the plaque will be entirely filled with red stars.

The nearest of kin are naturally given the opportunity of placing the red star beside a particular name. Those who have no near relative or friend in service may

Townies Out for Blood In Return Game Sunday

Smarting under the sting of their first defeat in sixteen games at the hands of the General Electric nine from Lynn, the Andover town team, immediately after the close of that contest, booked the Lynn group for a return game this coming Sunday at the playground. From all the facts now in view, the game should be the best of the season.

Sunday's defeat was to the tune of 8 to 1, which made the loss doubly hard to bear. Considering the splendid record made earlier in the season, the Townies looked singularly unimpressive. They got 8 hits against only 10 for General Electric, but a total of 8 errors, all but two on infield plays, contributed to the one-sided score. Bob Burnham pitched seven innings, during the last three of which all Frank McEvoy held the visitors hitless after relieving Burnham in the seventh.

"Backing the Attack"

The greatest selling campaign ever held in Andover has evidently gotten away to a flying start, and prospects appear very favorable for success in reaching its $260,000 quota in the Third War Loan drive now underway.

Chief interest in the campaign centers around the work of a woman's committee of 12 in charge of the "Red Star" portion of the drive. Several stars were issued with bonds on the first two days of the drive this week, and keen interest is anticipated in all sections of town.

Persons have already appeared at Red Star headquarters to offer to buy bonds anonymously in order that stars might be placed opposite the names, on the town hall plaque, of any serviceman who might otherwise go unremembered. Police Officer John Deyermund was the first to purchase Red Star bonds, for his five boys at that time in the armed forces; a sixth has since joined the colors.

No figures on the sale of E bond purchases has been issued yet by the central committee, though the sale has been an active one. Reports on other phases of the cam-

Sixth Deyermund Son Enters Armed Forces

Making that family's service record one of the most remarkable in the state, if not the country, the sixth son of Police Officer and Mrs. John Deyermund of Shawshen road was accepted into the armed forces Tuesday. John Deyermund, Jr., the eldest of the boys, who is married and the father of one child, was accepted into the Marine corps after being inducted at Selective Service headquarters in Boston.

A graduate of Syracuse university, as is his wife, Deyermund has recently been employed by a finance company in Hartford, Conn. He was well-known as an

Large Increase in School Enrollment

A special school committee meeting planned for Tuesday night was cancelled when the readjustments anticipated after the opening of the school year turned out to be of a minor nature. The transportation system, expected to be the chief item for discussion, will be the same as that of last June, with a few small adjustments. Supt. Edward I. Erickson conferred at length with the school bus drivers this week, and it was decided to maintain the status quo for the present.

Increases in enrollment and the proportionately large classes in two schools caused some shifting of pupils and classes this week. The sixth grade pupils in the Bradlee school were transferred back to the Stowe-Jackson school. This fall the fifth and sixth grades were returned to Ballardvale after several years, but, by this week's change, the school will have 77 pupils instead of the 90 registered last week. By the change, the first grade which has 27 pupils, the largest single grade in the Vale for many years, will be in a separate class, while the second and third and the fourth and fifth grades will be taught together.

Punchard high school's enrollment has shown an astounding increase during the week. On opening day last week, there were 280 pupils, but there are now an additional 35 pupils in class. The Junior high now has four more pupils than last week.

The West Center school opened this year with an unusually large enrollment, and four pupils have been transferred from there to the North school, six more to Stowe school. In each case, the parents were consulted by Supt. Erickson and expressed themselves as satisfied with the arrangements.

St. Augustine's school reopened Monday after extensive repairs on the building and grounds. The enrollment was 321 pupils, the largest in some time, with 51 children entering the first grade. Last year's parochial school population was 303.

Tyler Union Chooses Convention Delegates

John Cussen and Paul A. L'Antigua, officers of Local 137, U. R. W. A., C. I. O., at the Tyler Rubber Company have been elected to represent the local at the annual International Convention of the United Rubber Workers of America in Toronto, Canada, next week.

The delegates will leave Sunday and during their week's convention will stay at the Royal York hotel, the largest hotel in the British Empire.

Tentative Punchard Schedule Announced

Arrangements for the Concord game, which will open this year's Punchard football season, were completed this week with the announcement of the officials, Walter Reid as referee, Eugene J. Plocienick as umpire. The game will begin at the playstead at 2:30, September 25.

A tentative schedule for the season has been arranged as follows: Sept. 25, Concord at Punchard; Oct. 2, Danvers at Danvers; Oct. 9, Reading at Punchard; Oct. 16, Winchester at Punchard; Oct. 23 and 30, open; Nov. 6, Tewksbury (tentative); Nov. 11, Methuen at Methuen; Nov. 20, Johnson in North Andover. Home games will be arranged, if possible, for the two open dates, in order to avoid transportation worries.

Coaches Fred Reil and Ken McKinry are now working with a squad of 48 candidates, which, however, includes only one 1942 starter and 14 Junior high school boys, who will not be eligible for competition. McKinry handles the ninth-graders and is allowing them to practice with the varsity both to furnish the varsity with sufficient practice competition, and to gain experience for themselves for the seasons to come. The system is new to Andover, but should prove its worth in future years.

Of the 48 candidates, 18 are seeking backfield berths while 30 are aiming for line positions. Tony Babicki, a tackle, is the only starter who has reported from last season. Captain-elect Allan Dea entered the Navy some months ago, and Roger Collins is leaving for service this month. George Lawrence, an end, did not return to school this year.

Those reporting at the first practice session were:

WITH THE BOYS IN SERVICE

Sgt. Blamire, Reported Missing, Is Wounded

The anxiety of his parents over the fate of S. Sgt. Alexander "Buddy" Blamire, AAF, was somewhat relieved this week by a communication from the War Department stating that he has been wounded in action. The message came through a week to the day after the local boy was reported missing. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Blamire of Enmore street, understand that Sgt. Blamire has been a gunner with a bomber crew in China.

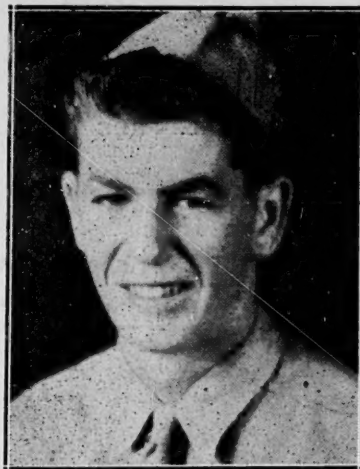

No other details were included in the message, and there is no word as yet as to the circumstances by which Sgt. Blamire was originally reported "missing." The Shawshen boy, a graduate of Punched and the Bentley school in Boston, won his silver wings as a gunner at Wendover Field, Utah, in February.

AT EASE!

Last week we recounted here the difficulties we had had in locating Sgt. John Surette, who the postoffice department informed us was at the Midland Radio School in Kansas City, but who actually wasn't there at all. If John didn't go to the Midland school, who the dickens did, we wondered in print. ...Well, this week we found out who it was — Cpl Clarence May, Jr., son of the Clarence Mays of Main street. He graduated with honors from the Midland Radio school (which is in Georgia, not Missouri), and is now in specialized radio training at a Florida base. We're glad to get the matter cleared up. ...By the way, the incident shows the trouble the postoffice is put to, to furnish us with servicemen's latest addresses when the boys themselves fail to, and we hope the servicemen and women will furnish us that information at an early date, themselves, whenever they move. We don't want anybody to miss a single issue if we can help it.

Sgt. Eddie Liffman, formerly in San Anton', is now with an aviation supply and maintenance company at Barksdale Field, La.

Mrs. Margaret Harkin of Sweeney court received word Tuesday that her daughter, Ensign Helen Harkin of the Navy Nurses Corps has arrived safely at her new station in the Southwest Pacific. Living conditions there are very primitive, she says; the nurses are living in huts and doing their laundry in a river. ...She hopes to run into her brother, S. Sgt. Arthur Harkin of the Marines, who has been in a rest camp in New Zealand since last February with a heavy cold he hasn't been able to shake off. ...Arthur hasn't been home since January, 1940, which is a long time; he's hoping to get to see Andover sometime soon.

Two brothers, the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Edward O'Hagan of Baker's lane, Jimmy (left) and Pete O'Hagan, are both serving in the infantry, in bracketed regiments, at Camp Robinson, Ark. They were recently transferred there from Camp Blanding, Fla. Two other members of the family are in the service, Red (Edward, Jr.) at Camp Pendleton, Va., and John, recently awarded the good conduct medal at Camp Davis, No. Car.

Hugh MacNeill, F3c, sends along word that he got his birthday card OK; Hughie's so far away that it took two months for the card to get to him. He's gotten three Townsmen out there so far, and Understand Pfc Jim Thomson's infantry outfit has moved from Camp Van Dorn, Miss., to Camp Carson in the hills of Colorado. would like to run into some of the Andover boys he reads about.

Pvt. Pug Whitcomb, former National bank teller, is training with the fighting engineers at Fort Belvoir, Va., and promises that his outfit is getting tough enough to get the war over in a hurry. That's the spirit.

Among 102 Massachusetts boys now at the San Antonio aviation cadet center is A. C. Paul Medolo of Middle street. San Anton' is a pre-flight school, so Paul's next step is training at a primary flying field.

Overseas field directors of the Red Cross have advised the local chapter that many families, friends and former employers send checks drawn on American banks to American servicemen stationed overseas. Such checks cannot be cashed at overseas stations and are therefore worthless to the servicemen. When it is necessary to transmit funds to servicemen overseas this should be done by postal money order.

Jim Nicoll of Clark road, Ballardvale, who entered service last month, has been assigned to the AAF, and is now at Buckley Field in Denver.

A. C. Cal Deyermond of Shawshen road has moved on to Dickinson college in Penn. for another phase of his AAF training. His brother, Bob, getting tired recently of life as a drill instructor at Parris Island, volunteered for combat service and was sent to Camp Pendleton, Calif.

Pfc Tom Hendrick, formerly at Grand Rapids, Mich., has been assigned to the base weather station at Newport, Ark.

Tommy Burns of South Main street, after being on inactive duty in a V-12 program since February, 1942, went on active duty a couple of weeks ago in the Navy, and is now stationed in Chicago.

Bernice Parsons of Shawshen, in service only six months and already a WAC corporal, is in the chemical warfare service at its U. S. headquarters at Edgewood Arsenal, Maryland.

A. C. Al Northam, son of the American Legion commander and Mrs. Northam, is at the Naval flight preparatory school at Williams college.

Charlie Sawyer of Bartlett street, who's just hitting his 20th birthday, entered service last month, and is now in the Naval flight preparatory school at Colgate university. He's been in the V-1 program since last September, and was accepted for V-5 training in March.

Bob Wilson of 27 William street is now studying at the school of medicine, University of Pennsylvania, under the Navy V-12 program for the training of officer candidates. Bob, who holds the rating of apprentice seaman, was already enrolled as a medical student at Penn when he became a member of the V-12 unit.

Dorothy Winn, who has finished her four-week training course at Hunter college, has been appointed a yeoman 3c in the Waves, and is now stationed in the nation's capital in the Office of the Vice Chief of Naval Operations, Division of Communications.

Pvt. Jim Holden, with the cannon company of one of Fort Jackson, So. Car.'s infantry regiments, reports the weather hot as the dickens down that way.

Two sons of the Charles Dwyer of Pearson street have received petty officer ratings in the Navy. John, now at the Jax (known to civilians as Jacksonville) air base in Florida, holds the rating of coxswain, and George, somewhere in the North African area, is now a storekeeper.

Pete Myers, MM1c at Camp Peary, Va., sends us a nice letter about receiving the paper. Pete says he passes the paper around to his camp friends, and they ask so many questions about Andover, and he gives such glowing accounts of the town, that the real estate business is due for a real boom here after the war.

A/C Don McLaughlan of the Navy is now at Amherst college, while Bob is currently getting his mail in the Navy's sick bay at the Everglades Hotel in Miami.

Pvt. Axel Martinson is overseas with his engineers regiment.

Pfc Larry Regan tells us that he gets as much satisfaction out of the Townsman as he would out of a personal letter. Larry is with a Marine defense battalion somewhere out of San Francisco.

Next time you're in Miami Beach, say hello to Pvt. Phil Bryant, who is with one of the training groups at the AAF training center there.

A/C Fred Butler, son of the county commissioner and Mrs. Butler, of Main street, is with the flight training detachment at the Riddle McKay Co., Union City, Tennessee.

Pvt. Jim Skea is now with an anti-aircraft artillery outfit on Long Island. Lives in a tent, out in the woods, and reports it comfortable except for the mosquitoes and lack of water.

Pvt. Brendon Quinn, with one of Camp Rucker, Alabama's chemical battalions, has recently been confined to the station hospital, but will be back on his feet again in a couple of weeks if all goes well.

Jim Dunn, whose wife lives at 57 Lincoln street, has been commissioned a second loole after completing an aviation meteorology course at Grand Rapids, Mich. Jim, a Lawrence boy, graduated from Boston college in 1936.

DEATHS

Willis H. Tewksbury

A man of distinguished attainments who had resided in Lawrence and Andover all of his 82 years; Willis Hawthorne Tewksbury, died suddenly Saturday afternoon at the family home on Hidden road.

Mr. Tewksbury was the son of one of Lawrence's early mayors, Robert H. Tewksbury, and Angeline (Hawthorne) Tewksbury. The family home was formerly on Jackson street, Lawrence. Mr. Tewksbury's forbears came to this country in 1680, and have long been prominent in the state, and in the city of Lawrence since its foundation a century ago.

A graduate of Lawrence high school with the class of 1880, Mr. Tewksbury was always actively interested in its alumni association, serving many years as president of that body. He also took a deep interest in Lawrence's municipal affairs, having been assistant postmaster and assistant city treasurer at one time. At the time of his retirement, he was connected with the American Woolen company in Boston and Shawsheen.

He was a member of St. Matthews lodge, A. F. and A. M., of Andover, and of Kearsarge encampment and Monadnock lodge, Odd Fellows. He followed sports closely and was a familiar figure at all Phillips academy and schoolboy athletic contests. He was a member of the Lawrence Street Congregational church, Lawrence.

Surviving are his wife, Annie (Skilling) Tewksbury; four daughters, Mrs. Ruth Tewksbury Bjorkman of Swampscott, who is well known for her poetry, Mrs. Lewis A. Putnam of Lowell, and Misses Ethel H. and Helen S. Tewksbury of Andover; a son, Norman Lee Tewksbury of Fall River; a grandson, Alan L. Bjorkman, now in the U. S. Army Air Force; and a granddaughter, Frances Tewksbury.

The funeral was held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Lundgren funeral home, Rev. Bernard T. Drew, pastor of the Lawrence Street Congregational church, officiating, assisted by Dr. Frederick Harlan Page of Waltham, a lifelong friend of the deceased. Burial was in Spring Grove cemetery.

The bearers were Norman L. Tewksbury, Lennart W. Bjorkman, Frederick Plummer, G. Alfred Maker, Walter Skilling and William G. Skilling.

Frank W. Caswell, 88, who resided here in early childhood, died Sunday night at his home at 127 Western avenue, Lynn, after a brief illness. He had lived in Lynn for 80 years, and, prior to his retirement 18 years ago, was for 30 years a foreman at the J. B. Renton Heel company in that city.

The funeral was held yesterday at 2 o'clock from the late home. Burial was in Pine Grove cemetery, Lynn.

A resident of Andover and this section of the state for the past 72 years, Mrs. Clara (Johnson) Anderson died early Tuesday afternoon at her home at 3 William street. She was a native of Sweden.

Her immediate survivors are six sons, J. Harry Anderson and Edward A. Anderson of Andover, Waldo A. Anderson of Muskegan, Mich., Franklin P. Anderson of Arlington, Lewis L. Anderson of Danvers and Arvid L. Anderson of Chicago; and a daughter, Miss Rhoda C. Anderson of Andover.

The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon from the Lundgren funeral home, with services conducted at the South Congregational church, Lawrence, by Rev. Frederick B. Noss, pastor of the South church in Andover. Burial will be in Bellevue cemetery, Lawrence.

A well-known resident of this town for the past 33 years, when she came here from Dundee, Scotland, Mrs. Sarah (Lochrie) Downs, 83, widow of Edward Downs, died Tuesday afternoon at the home of her son, Edward Downs of 123 North Main street. She was a member of the Sacred Heart sodality of St. Augustine's church.

Besides Mr. Downs, she is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Mary Young and Mrs. Helen Doherty; nine grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

The funeral was held this morning from the Lundgren funeral home, a solemn high mass of requiem being celebrated at 10 o'clock in St. Augustine's church.

Rev. Matthew F. McDonald, O. S. A., was celebrant, assisted by Rev. Henry B. Smith, O. S. A., as deacon, and Rev. Fr. Sylvester, O. F. M., as sub-deacon.

Burial was in St. Augustine's cemetery.

Alec F. Estell, 78, of Salem street, died late Saturday afternoon at the Lawrence General hospital, following a long illness. He had moved here last year from Salem, N. H., and made his home with his son, Lyle Estell. He was a native of Newport, Vt.

His only other immediate survivor is another son, Gerald Estell, who lives in California.

The body was forwarded Tuesday for burial in the family lot in the Newport, Vt., cemetery.

Important Change in Andover Farm Program

Alton G. Perkins, county AAA conservation assistant, has announced that it is the responsibility of the farmers themselves this year to report any soil building practices carried out under the 1943 agricultural conservation program on their farms, as committee-men will be unable to make farm-to-farm visits as in the past.

Community committeemen will assist in filling out reports and making applications for payment. Chester D. Abbott is the committeeman for Andover, and he will be at Grange Hall tonight at 7:30 to help.

At that time enrollment in the 1944 conservation program can be made, and orders for ground limestone for immediate delivery given. Ground limestone is the only material available this year and may be obtained by any eligible farmer free of charge.

Mrs. George Hird and children of North street are enjoying two weeks at Biddeford Pool, Me.

State Guard Company Gets Training in Judo

On Sunday the Andover Company of the State Guard held its usual drill period. The Company's several new recruits were given special instruction in basic work, such as marching and manual of arms. The rest of the Company went on a march along Punchard avenue to Main street, Locke street to School street and Central streets, up through Elm square onto Main street, to Punchard avenue and back to the playstead. On returning to the school grounds the entire company was given further judo instruction. The men were shown how to break away from a bear hug, applied from behind, and how to defend themselves from attack by an assailant armed with either a club or a knife.

Capt. H. Garrison Holt left Sunday morning for a vacation and will be away until the first of October.

The recruiting drive has brought in a number of new men but there are still vacancies in the local Company. Any men between 17 and 50 years of age may apply any night this month to the officers or non-commissioned officers on duty between 7:30 to 8:45 p. m. at the Town Hall. Enlistment in the State Guard offers opportunities for interesting and valuable training, enjoyable social contacts, and gives men who for various reasons cannot enter the federal forces their chance to be of real service in the present emergency.

Orders have been issued by Lieutenant G. Clifford Emmons that the uniform of the day for next Sunday will be blue denims with blue hats, leggings, packs, shotguns, and steel helmets.

PUNCHARD NOTES

The first regular assembly was held Monday. Opening exercises were held, and Mr. Lovely explained about the fire and air raid alarms used in Punchard for the benefit of the sophomores.

The knowledge gained by the sophomores in their first six lessons of first year French is really astounding, particularly to the second year students. In the morning, they greet you with a cheery "Bonjour mademoiselle (monsieur)!" They ask you how you, your mother, and your father are and then they branch off into a pronunciation of several of their newest vocabulary words. If they keep up this good work, there will be no danger of a real Frenchman getting lost in Punchard.

Baseball

The bad news began in the fifth, the first four innings having been scoreless for both sides. With the visitors at bat, Melanson got to second when Moher threw wild over First Baseman McEvoy's head. Moher tossed out Pinch, the next batter, but Stark was safe when Gartside, local shortstop, dropped a fly. Witcher's roller went through Gartside to score Melanson. Moher then tossed out McManus of G. E., but Stark scored when McEvoy made a bad throw to the plate trying to nip him. Scott scored Witcher with a single to right, but was immediately caught off first for the third out.

In the sixth, G. E. got another tally, when Kennedy opened with a triple to left center, the longest hit of the game, and came in when the next batter singled to right.

In Andover's half of the sixth, Moher beat out a hit to shortstop, and continued to second when the throw went over the first baseman's head. He went to third as Gartside grounded out, and scored on another infield out by Dubois.

The seventh turned out to be the visitors' big inning, and gave them an unapproachable margin. Stark beat out a roller to third to open the inning, and, after the next man had flied out, McManus walked and sent Stark to second. Scott singled to center, scoring Stark. Kennedy grounded to Moher, forcing Scott at second but advancing McManus a base. The latter came in a moment later when Steeves singled to right. On the throw in, the ball got by Munroe, Kennedy scoring and Steeves going to second. Cushing singled to left and scored Steeves when Gartside relayed the ball out of the catcher's reach.

Burnham was replaced by McEvoy, who had been playing first base, at that point. Before McEvoy had a chance to pitch, however, Haltmaier caught Cushing trying to steal third to end the inning.

The local nine was clearly capable of giving the G. E. team, which included several stars from the well-known Lynn Fraziers, a much better tussle, and there were times Sunday when it showed its old spark. This Sunday's encounter promises to be a much more spirited contest.

Statement by GOVERNOR SALTONSTALL on the THIRD WAR LOAN

"Massachusetts boys are in our armed forces all over the world, and are doing their part to win victories for us. They expect us who are on the home front to 'BACK THE ATTACK' with every last effort that we have, and that means our money as well as our hands. Send your savings to war now, to give our boys better and more equip- ment. Battles will be won more quickly, with less loss of life if they have the equipment with which to fight. Until the last gun is fired, we must keep up our home effort. Tokio and Berlin are not yet conquered. The real fight is yet to come.

"Massachusetts' share of the war loan is $783,000,000. Your government provides a bond to fit your pocketbook. I know that Massachusetts can be counted upon to do its share. It always has!"

athlete a few years back, having been an outstanding end on the Punchard and Syracuse football teams.

He is the third Marine in his family, the Marines being evidently the most popular among the Deyermund boys, though every branch of the service is represented. Two of the sons have already seen stirring action in the present war, Sgt. William J. Deyermund of the National Guard, who fought at Guadalcanal and in now in another of the Southwest Pacific battle areas, and Gunner's Mate third-class James "Tunny" Deyermund of the Navy, who took part in the battle of Sicily.

The other three boys are Sgt. Robert W. Deyermund of the Marines, who recently transferred to Camp Pendleton, Calif., after volunteering for combat duty; Corporal Warren H. Deyermund, U. S. M. C., drill instructor for a Naval unit at Dartmouth college; and A. C. Calvin Deyermund, recently appointed to the AAF and now at Dickinson college, Penna., for pre-flight training.

In connection with the recent Red Star war bond campaign, of which details may be found in another section of this issue. Officer Deyermund Tuesday purchased five war bonds honoring his five sons in service, being the first local person to take advantage of the plan. At that time his sixth son had not yet been inducted, but he remarked Wednesday that he was now going to go out and buy another bond.

BIRTH

A son, at Phillips House, Boston, to Pvt. and Mrs. James T. McClellan.

At the recent convocation of Vassar college for its 79th year, it was announced that Miss Muriel Wood was one of 40 students completing two years of work with the standard of excellence required for honors at graduation. Miss Wood, daughter of Lt. Com. and Mrs. Cornelius A. Wood, is majoring in philosophy.

JUNIOR HIGH NOTES

A good many changes have made the Junior high school much more "streamlined" this year. The desks, tables and chairs are freshly varnished, the floors are waxed, and the outside doors have been repainted. The library has a new book display. There are also many new pupils, several from out of town.

The latter are as follows: Jean Ballantyne, Teresa Beaudoin, Eric Halbach, and Geraldine Hohlfelder from Lawrence, Peter Lord and Seth Kelsey from Boxford, Anne Curtis from Trumbull, Conn., Betty Anne Dunne and Clifford Dubois from Malden, Gertrude Harriman from Searsmont, Me., Edward Mercer from Bristol, R. I., Robert Hildreth from Woburn, Jack Sherman from California, and Gerald Young from Athol. From St. Augustine's School, we welcome Diane Mahoney, William Arnold, Evelyn White, Lawrence White, Sally Bergeron, Joseph O'Donnell, Jeanne Curtin, Ann Sullivan, Joseph Golden, Rita Toussaint, Charles Brennan Charles Schultz, Patricia Collins, Edward Schmidt, Branton Davey, Anne Winters, Theresa Dwyer and Richard Morrissey. Donald Craig from the Marland school and Burnham Riggs from the Pike school are also new members.

During the first music appreciation period of the year Monday a film was shown explaining the arrangement of a symphony orchestra. "Coming in on a wing and a prayer" was sung by the entire school, and Miss Sweeney reviewed some of the main things one should know about symphony orchestras.

Wednesday of this week two films were shown, "The Spirit of '43" and "Trans-America."

We welcome two new teachers, Miss Charlotte Mothes of Hudson, who is teaching homemaking, and who taught last year at Brewster on Cape Cod, and Miss Ruth Westcott of Andover, who has become our school nurse.

Mr. McKiniry has organized football practice for the Junior high boys. The ninth grade boys are practicing with the high school. The extra-curricular program for the girls has not yet been organized.

ANDOVER STEAM LAUNDRY

Editorials

No Need for It

After a bit of investigation, the local police department this week identified two boys who were guilty of one of the most shocking cases of vandalism that have happened here in recent years. Two local boys of high-school age confessed to the police, with a cockiness that fitted them very badly, that they had stood on a small island in the middle of the Shawsheen river and threw stones until they had broken, in a mill building, exactly 70 9 x 15 panes of glass. Damage was estimated at easily $150, which the boys, or their parents, will be held responsible for.

There is none of us who, in childhood, did not get something of a thrill out of breaking a window in an abandoned property, or of smashing a street-light now and then. That, however, is one thing; breaking 70 panes of glass, one after another, is quite another matter. It is deliberate vandalism, pure and simple.

It is not the first such case to come to the attention of local police. Just a few weeks ago, considerable damage was done to the Andover Guild by a group of young hoodlums, and another property on North Main street, near the Shawsheen river bridge, has been so consistently damaged that the police have kept a close watch on it in their regular rounds.

Such vandalism is a new thing to Andover, and it must be stopped before it goes much further. The cause may be the war, for a good many of our teen-age children have assumed rights and responsibilities that belong to the older boys, now out of town in the armed services. It may be just the disciplinary slackening that always comes in wartime, to the home front.

Whatever the cause, it must be eradicated. The schools play a large part in the lives of our young people, and doubtless they are doing their best to teach them the proper standards of civilized behavior. The new religious education program should have a powerful tendency to counteract the moral letdown.

It remains for the parents to assume their part of the burden by keeping a closer watch on the way their children are thinking, and the things they are doing. Let's have a town that the boys will want to come home to.

COMMUNICATIONS

To the Editor:

The Andover Third War Loan Committee takes this opportunity to thank American Legion Post No. 8 for its courtesy in permitting the use of the Roll of Honor at the Town Hall for the purpose of furthering the sale of war bonds by means of the Red Star Campaign. The Red Star idea, which has since been recommended throughout the state by the War Finance Committee, Boston headquarters, in its official circular dated September 9, has received a generally favorable reception. It was carefully discussed with many townspeople before the approval of Andover Post No. 8 was asked, and in these individual conversations as well as at the Legion's last meeting, it was unanimously approved.

It is, of course, a form of incentive selling. The slogan of the Third War Loan Campaign is Back the Attack with Bonds, and it was natural to assume that the parents and friends of Andover boys in the service would, by and large, support the idea which, simply stated, is to buy for them the equipment they must have to win. Andover's quota of $260,000 E bonds is truly a tremendous figure. Every source of purchase must be tapped, and in this connection a group of unselfish townspeople have generously volunteered their services as house to house canvassers. In addition a ladies' committee of twelve is giving its time to the interests of the Red Star Campaign.

It is indeed a question whether or not we will achieve our quota, but the Committee wishes to leave untried no proper or appropriate method of sales effort. The Committee does not wish to exert any pressure in the starrng of names. It realizes that financial limitation exists in certain cases, and it is fully prepared to assume the responsibility for the full starrng of the board by September 30 through bona fide sales because the known purchasers of bonds in any event will exceed the number of names on the board. Many have already called to purchase bonds and to offer stars for anonymous use. Furthermore the Committee realizes that many of the service men involved are regularly purchasing bonds out of their pay, and this also has been given consideration; thus on indication of such a fact by a parent a red star will be issued at the headquarters. All in all, we believe our people of Andover will agree that this is a proper way to honor those who are doing the fighting, and one which in the end can indicate no discrimination. As stated before, one of our goals will be to issue a photograph of the plaque as a supplement of the TOWNSMAN, which as your readers know, regularly goes to all Andover boys in the armed services.

Third War Loan Committee

This Sober Town

In the September 11 issue of the New Yorker, Page 24, we find the following squib: "Leda and the Swan", the only sonnet Yeats ever wrote, was completed in 1923, and gives a feeling of the breaking up of Europe. Leda, herself, had three children: the twins—Castor and Dollux—and Pollux—and Helen and Helen, over whom the Trojan War was waged." The paragraph is accredited to the Phillips

AMERICAN HEROES

BY LEEF

Beneath the relentless hail of bombs in a Japanese air attack in the Pacific, Private William C. Hamby, OMC, drove nurses and wounded to the hospital and went back again and again to bring in more of the injured. He made seven trips in all and won the Distinguished Service Cross. How many Third War Loan Bonds can you yourself afford, to match those seven trips of Private Hamby?

Academy Phillipian, and the sarcastic note is appended that "Everything seems to be breaking up."

We hereby declare that a state of war exists between us and the New Yorker. The Phillipian and Townsman are brothers; they are printed by the same firm, they are proof-read by the same individuals; they frequently steal each other's stuff. An attack on one is clearly an attack on the other.

We will read the New Yorker hereafter, mainly because it is the only magazine anywhere that gives us the real low-down on which movies are worth seeing and which are not. But we refuse, henceforth, to approve of the New Yorker.

We had another tiff with a magazine this week—Life. Seems Life had a few pictures, a couple of weeks ago, of a Gen. Keyes accepting the surrender of Messina or someplace. One of Life's readers promptly sent in (Life readers, for some unknown reason, are always embarking on some project like that) a couple of pictures purporting to show the remarkable facial similarity between Gen. Keyes and a warrior's face painted by the late Leonardo da Vinci. Life, for some equally benighted reason, printed the two pictures, carefully explaining that Gen. Keyes was "left" and the Warrior "right", though anybody with half an eye could tell which was which.

We sent off a good sarcastic letter to Life ourselves, but we don't suppose anything will come of it.

ANDOVER SERVICE CLUB

The first meeting of the Andover Service club will be held at the Country club, Wednesday, October 22nd. There will be a nine hole golf tournament in the afternoon, dinner at 6:45, music and fun in the evening.

Youngsters Back War Loan With Carnival

The children of the Dunbarton, Sterling and Carlisle streets district of Shawsheen will be making a praiseworthy contribution to the war effort Saturday afternoon at 2:00, at 3 Dunbarton street, when they stage a carnival there. The purpose of the carnival, which is promoted and arranged entirely by a group of about 14 boys and girls from the neighborhood, is to back the Third War Loan. Not only will all prizes be in war stamps, but all profits to be shared among the young promoters will be turned into stamps by them.

Among the features will be a doll carriage parade, with prizes for the best-decorated carriages and other features in the entries. Various games of chance will also be offered patrons, war stamps being the prizes. There will be a dog show, with prizes for the best-natured dog, friendliest canine and the like. Hot dogs and cokes will be on sale.

The youngsters, who originated the entire program themselves, have placarded Shawsheen with signs indicating the direction to the carnival. In the event of rain, the program will be held over till Sunday afternoon at 2:00.

CORRECTION

It has been brought to the attention of the Townsman that in an obituary notice of Charles A. Parmelee, who died July 16, reference was made to him as "the former head of the French department" at Phillips academy. As a matter of fact, he never held that position; for many years, the title was that of Charles E. Stone of the faculty, now retired, and is currently held by George F. French.

NEWS OF OLD ANDOVER

50 YEARS AGO. B. B. Tuttle was to run a taxi service from the railroad station hereafter, in addition to his extensive express business... The Canfield estate on School street was up for sale... George B. Ripley was at the World's Fair... Miss Belle Butterfield was resuming her duties as instructor in elocation at a young ladies' seminary... Rev. W. A. Evans, formerly of Andover, had his new church dedicated in LaGrange, Ill... Thomas Lunan was elected captain of the Punchard Cadets... Marland mills were expected to start up in a week or two, now that the panic was lessening... A Boston minister was to speak here in the interests of prohibition... The Andover Custom Laundry was sold to H. C. and Mrs. M. B. Townsend...

25 YEARS AGO. 937 men were registered for the draft in the new 18-22 and 32-48 age groups... St. Augustine's new parochial school was impressively dedicated, with a parade led by Patrick Barrett as chief marshal and John H. McDonald and John Hurley as his aides... Carl Rust Parker was appointed to an important position in Washington... Harry Kenneally, John Leary and Henry Albert enlisted in the Merchant Marine... The local firemen would give the proceeds of their annual ball to the Comfort committee... Joseph Emile Daudelin, no less, former pupil of the famous Paris Conservatoire, was resuming his violin classes... Patrick O'Neill of the Canadian forces was the first Andover man to be killed in action since the United States entered the war.

10 YEARS AGO. Death took Andover's oldest resident, Adam Clark Richardson, 96-year-old retired contractor... The State Department of Public Works informed W. F. Barron, vice-president of the James Otis club, that it could not consider taking over Lowell street as a state road... The school board met to consider the revolutionary idea of the federal government helping finance the building of a new school. The public schools now had the largest enrollment in the town's history — 1576... Lyman Cole sold his interest in Lowe's drugstore to Charles F. Dalton... A large barn on Holt road was destroyed by fire... Samuel H. Bailey, Andover's only living ex-selectman, observed his 85th birthday.

from being burned to death when a transport plane made a bad take-off as he was leaving for more peaceful territory after seven months of adventure.

His pictures deal with battle scenes at places now familiar to those who follow the war — Maknassy, Sened, Ousseltia, El Guettar, Bizerte and Tunis, Mateur, Hill 609 and Camp Bon. He has several fine photos of General Mark Clark, who had that melodramatic conference with the French in North Africa before the Allied landings, and who is now leading the American Fifth Army in Italy.

Bonds

paign are very favorable, however. Chairman James Gould of the Third War Loan campaign announced yesterday afternoon that local banks, insurance companies and corporations already had subscribed 75% of their Andover quota, $1,350,000. This figure, with the $260,000 quota for individual purchases, means that each Andover serviceman will receive $1,500 worth of equipment to battle the enemy by the end of the month, if the quota is fully subscribed.

The Red Star campaign, which was purely a local idea in origin, has already won the enthusiastic approbation of State War Loan headquarters. The plan has been officially recommended for use throughout the state in a special bulletin, dated September 9, sent out by the Boston headquarters of the War Finance committee.

Stars will be issued only against outright bond purchases, made in the month of September, as the purpose of the drive is solely to meet the Third War Loan Quota, which is four times the normal monthly quota.

LOUIS SCANLON'S
on the Andover line

Down in a factory in Brooklyn, N. Y., two weeks ago, three crates weighing a total of over two tons were carefully labelled "The Townsman Press, Inc., Andover, Mass." and consigned to the overworked facilities of the New York Central. Proudly above that factory flew a pennant bearing the Army-Navy "E" — proudly in that factory worked hundreds of men and women who justly loved to repeat the story of how during the African campaign the need developed for an entirely new optical instrument, of how the job was turned over to the Mergenthaler Linotype company to produce in thirty days, of how technicians, using improvised factory sleeping quarters for an hour or two of sleep now and then, with plenty of black coffee to keep them going, proceeded to do the job that couldn't be done, of how twenty-seven days later two planes left LaGuardia Field and flew direct to General Eisenhower — and of the thrill they experienced after the Tunisian victory when there came a cablegram from General Eisenhower: "Let us thank God for the American industry, labor and management, which has given us the weapons and equipment with which to conduct our North African campaign. More power to you!"

And you can't blame us a bit for feeling pretty good that the Mergenthaler factory has been able to supply us with our new Linotype. Very few are being made, and the new machines are released only on War Production Board approval to printerries doing essential work. It's quite a machine, too — you must drop in to see it. Equipped with many features which will enable us to handle better our tremendously increased volume of printing, it is the best thing that can be obtained today in type-setting machines. From it will come the Townsman type that your boys and girls will be reading soon in the Pacific Islands, in Italy — and pray God, soon in Berlin. From it will come the type for those many production forms that our Andover and Lowell ordnance plants need to speed along their war work. From it will come the type that goes into The Massachusetts Teacher, the magazine that 20,000 teachers in the Bay State read. From it will come the type that our local academies, our schools, our town government and our business firms need to help in their necessary work. And when peace comes, it will be here to help carry on those many things that make up life in the average American community. It's ours, but it's here for you.

Don't make a special trip — but when you're in Andover Square next, drop into the Townsman Press to see our new Linotype. You'll also be interested to pause in our hallway to see our general exhibit of printing and our special exhibit showing some of the printed forms used to aid in the production of ammunition.

MODEL 8 LINOTYPE

Installed this week at the Townsman Press — a fine type-setting machine, from a fine type-setting machinery company, to enable us to give you fine type-setting.
